Freshmen Hold "Spring Hop" At Orange, April 20

"Spring Hop" is the name given for the annual Freshman-Sophomore dance to be held April 20, at the Orange Women's Club House, preliminary plans for which have been made this week according to an announcement received from Delmer Brown, Freshman class president.

Bob Thompson, former Santa Ana Don and his orchestra will furnish the music. Novel entertainment will be given according to the committee. The dance will be informal.

Committees heads appointed include Stewart McPherson, finance; Abbot Mason, decorations; Rose Marie Smith, refreshments; Wylie Carlyle, orchestra and ball; Bob Chapman and Bill Hewitt, entertainment; Dorothy Harman, reception; Baxter Geeting, advertising; and Dorothy Diehl, favors.

"Macbeth" Players Begin On Third Act

At Macbeth rehearsal last Monday night, the third act of the play was begun. Arrangements and plans for the stage scenery are being made this way. The scenery is to be modernistic. Rufus Bond, head of the mechanical drawing department, is in charge of the drafting of the plans, and the art students are helping in the designing.

Thomas Askin Gives Assembly Program

Thomas Askin, accompanied by Mrs. Askin, will present a varied program at assembly in the auditorium today.

Mr. Askin has studied abroad for many years. He completed a period of intensive study in Italy about a year ago.

The program will be a combination of character songs, music, and a talk entitled "That Something", which has been printed and widely distributed throughout the country.

Beta Gamma And O. K.'s Plan To Meet

Two clubs will hold meetings this week to make further plans for their organizations.

Beta Gamma members will meet at James Cafe at six o'clock tonight in order to vote upon the names of prospective members submitted at a former meeting. The meeting will adjourn so all who wish can attend the Discussion Group.

O. K. club members will meet at Paul Allen's home, tomorrow night, according to Bertolet, president. The organizing of a club treasury will be the main piece of business, after which the rest of the evening will be spent socially.

Combined Y. M. C. A. Santa Ana Invited And Y. W. Meeting To Fashion Program

George Tobias, president of the Y. M. C. A., announced that on Wednesday, May 1, combined Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. day will be observed at Santa Ana.

During the morning hours interview and group meetings will be held. Bishop Paul Jones has been invited to speak at the assembly. In the evening the "Y. M." will invite the "Y. W." to a banquet in the "Y" Hut in honor of Bishop Jones.

Ten-Minute Tryouts For Oratory Today

This afternoon at three o'clock, ten minute tryouts of the oratorical contest on the American constitution will be held in the auditorium. The students selected this afternoon will go to Bovard auditorium, U. S. C., and will speak in the regional semi-finals.

The judges are Mr. Stewart, Mr. Wilkinson, and Mr. Hammond.

Those who will speak this afternoon are Thelma Dugan, Arthur Groos, and Paul Mueller.

NINETEEN SOPHS FAIL TO SUBMIT ACTIVITIES

The Algol staff has been busy mounting pictures and completing the copy for the yearly publication, which must be finished by Friday.

There are nineteen sophomores who have not turned in their activity slips, and Eleanor Turner asks that they be turned in immediately.

Several pictures have to be re-taken. The one-act play pictures will be taken Thursday night.

The Algol is expected to go to press the first of May, and to be out around the first of June.

Santa Ana junior college students are invited to attend a Spring Fashion Show at the Glendale junior college, Friday evening, April 12 at 8 o'clock.

The affair is being sponsored by the Associated Women Students and the women of the Y. W. C. A. of Glendale junior college and they are especially anxious that students from neighboring colleges attend.

The program will take place in the Music Hall of the junior college building.

San Bernardino Will Be Host To All-Conference Dance, April 13; Twelve Junior Colleges Invited

Rehearse Every Nite On "Fortune Teller"

Rehearsals are being held every night for "The Fortune Teller", comic opera to be produced by the college, under Mrs. Mona Sumners Smith, dramatic director.

"The Fortune Teller" was written by Victor Herbert and is similar to musical comedy.

Melva Fletcher plays a dual role, that of a ballet dancer and gypsy. Clark Brown plays the part of a soldier, a Hungarian Hussar. Hazel Smith is a French opera singer who falls in love regularly every two weeks. Carol Bertolet plays the part of a count. A ballet chorus and a gypsy chorus add to the operetta.

Discussion Group To Meet Again Tonight

"Companionate Marriage" will be the topic open for discussion at the second meeting of the Discussion Group to be held tonight in the "Y" Hut at 7:30 p. m.

This group was organized the week prior to vacation by E. M. Nealley, when twenty-five students met for a discussion on religion. If any student has any particular topic they would like discussed at a meeting they are urged to tell Mr. Nealley.

Eddie Gerhardt is in charge of the discussion this evening, and he extends an invitation to all students who are interested to attend.

"Y. W." Practices On English Folk Dances

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday evening, April 9, at 7 p. m. at the "Y" Hut. English folk songs and dances were started under the direction of Miss Leck. These songs and dances are to be presented at the English May Fete in Fullerton on May 4.

Mary Bruner was in charge of the meeting and nominations were held.

FIELD TRIP TAKEN BY SCIENCE TEACHER

J. Russell Bruff, head of the science department, and friends spent Easter vacation at Twenty-Nine Palms, in the Colorado Desert about fifty miles east of Palm Springs. They motored up by way of Kup Ranch and Split Rock.

"I couldn't collect plants, as I usually do," stated Mr. Bruff, "because it was too cold and dry. So I had one delightful trip of rest."

Mr. and Mrs. Bruff often spend their vacations making collections and taking field trips. Quite often students accompany them on these trips. Thousand Palms and Salton Sea were visited on former trips.

San Bernardino junior college will be the scene of the first All-Conference dance in the college gymnasium to which the students of the twelve junior colleges in the Southern California conference have been invited.

The gay affair, which will be a sport dance, will be a fitting climax to the conference track meet, which will be held in the afternoon on the San Bernardino oval.

According to Walter Harford, president of San Bernardino Associated Students, representatives of other junior colleges are heartily in favor of the plan. Official invitations have been sent out to students and faculty of Southern California junior colleges. Gail Stockton is general manager of the dance and promises clever decorations and program. It is expected that visiting junior colleges will present skits as part of the entertainment.

President Willard White urges that Santa Ana junior college students support this all conference dance. The price of admission will be one dollar per couple.

Literature Class Inspects Library

Henry Huntington's Art Gallery and library will be toured today by members of the English literature survey and modern poetry courses.

This is the first time this year that Santa Ana English department students have made a trip to see this most famous collection of masterpieces in Southern California.

Mrs. Northcross, who is instructor of the classes, will be faculty adviser. Forty students are leaving at 12 o'clock today.

Later in the semester art students and library science class members will make a similar trip.

President Attends School Convention

D. K. Hamond was among the number who enjoyed the high school and junior high school principal's convention at Oakland, California, March 25 to 29. School problems were discussed.

An interesting feature, according to Mr. Hammond, was a fifteen-minute airplane ride given each principal by the Standard Oil Company. The average speed was 100 miles per hour, and the average altitude was 1,200 feet.

Students from the school paper staffs of seven Oakland high schools edited the convention daily paper. This was an exceptionally good piece of work.

All Conference Dance

More and more the junior colleges of Southern California are coming to the realization that personal contacts between the schools promote a bond of friendship that is often missing between the colleges because students of one college are not given an opportunity to meet students of another college.

Exchange assemblies, an inter-collegiate movement which was begun this year, and which has been proclaimed to be successful by all the participating junior colleges, is being followed by new venture, an All Conference Dance, in which all the junior colleges of the Southern California Conference are participating in a dance.

San Bernardino Junior College is starting this movement, and has sent an invitation to Santa Ana Junior College to attend this dance in company with students from all Southern Junior Colleges. This event promises to be more enjoyable than any inter-collegiate event ever staged, but the students of the various junior colleges must support it whole heartedly.

Yanks Of Europe

Germany is trying to get back on her feet and is not holding any grudge against anyone in the attempt.

American industries and products are finding a good market in the Rhineland. The Germans do not resent the American invasion but seem to invite it, since it means more work for the laboring men. Many of the leading motor car concerns have either bought or rented plants and have equipped them with the most up-to-date machinery. They are using as much German raw material as possible as it is not only a saving of custom duties, but also is a matter of policy in sales and advertising. Many other American companies have factories in Germany employing thousands of men.

American modes of dress and amusements are sweeping the country by storm. A new theater in Berlin has been named the "Roxy" after New York's own. Along the Kurfurstendamm, Berlin's Broadway, the flappers say "all right", sing American songs and many of them chew gum just as fast as their sisters overseas. The Germans proudly refer to themselves as the "Yanks of Europe."

France and England bitterly resent the Yank invasion as they think it is ruining their own trade. There is a great difference in these three countries and there is also a great difference in their post-war comeback to normalcy.—Daily Kansan.

College Comment

Naturally the obvious thing to discuss is the beard-growing contest now very much in evidence. We have excellent replicas of General Grant and many other notables of the Civil War era. Black beards, brown beards, golden beards, (mostly taffy-colored) and red beards greet one upon stepping into one hall of learning. The object seems to be to prove one's manhood and ability to grow a decent sort of hirsute adornment. The prize is a beautiful black and white shirt which even the youth of Mexico scorns. I wonder if it wouldn't be an altruistic act on the part of the girls to take up a collection and thereby present each male with a scrub-brush and a mustache cup which would thereby culminate any embarrassment on the part of the men.—Juliet Evans.

Blue Monday

(Dedicated to all Spanish Classes)

Some students sat in a Spanish room
With faces pale and meek
It was the time abhorred by all
The first day of the week.

Each one slumped far down in his seat
With text book held before.

His last hopes sank, his mind a blank
Alas! he knew no more.

The teacher started down the roll
With pitiless indifference
The pupils gulped and held their breath
No chance to use the reference.

The first name on the list she called
The rest sighed their relief
The first one flunked—she called the next

The time was growing brief.
Straight down the list she slowly went

'til "F's" became a bore
The twelfth one flunked and then—
Ah! bliss
The Bell !!! An answering roar.

Some students rushed from the Spanish room
No longer pale and worn
They tore downstairs, o'erjoyed to think
Blue Monday come and gone.

Who's Who

I don't know whose who he is, but she sure is a lucky girl and I'm not writing cigarette "ads". That is a delicate colored Dodge he drives. It is politely called a maroon, but I'm not polite in referring to that so-called "speedster". The handsome owner of it is red-haired or rather auburn haired. I've got to be polite he is so much bigger than I. He wears those dark spotted cords so popular with the college-men.

It's a shame he is so reserved because he is a good dancer and knows his way around.

By the way a poem was dedicated to him and printed in the Don a few weeks ago. It seemed to get him on his ear, but he is a good sport and soon got over that.

Dr. Don D. Loscohier Main Speaker At College Conference On Engineering

Cal. Tech. To Be Host At Meet On April 12 And 13

Bringing to students the results of more than twenty years experience in the field of economics and the relationship of capital and labor, Dr. Don D. Loscohier is coming from the "Human Engineering Conference"; for students of Southern California colleges, at which will be discussed the problems of the industrial world in which most students are plunged upon graduation. The conference will be held April 12 and 13 on the Cal Tech Campus in Pasadena.

Dr. Loscohier is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where he is now Professor of Economics. He has been Labor Statistician of Minnesota; Head Department Economics, Hamline University; and a member of several industrial and labor boards and investigating committees. Dr. Loscohier is author of "The Labor Market", "Population Problems", and many other books and articles for newspaper publication.

He will speak on the "History of the American Labor Movement" and "The Rights of the Public in Labor Disputes."

"The Principle of the Open Shop" will be fully explained and discussed with students by Mr. Robert Chapman who will speak at the conference. He will present the "open shop" movement in a short talk, following which an open forum will be held to permit students to ask questions.

Harvey C. Freming, Deputy Labor Commissioner of California, and President of the Long Beach Labor Council will be a third speaker at the convention. He will speak on the topic, "The Aims and Ideals of the Trade Union Movement in American Industry."

Meetings of the Convention will be held in Culbertson Hall. Santa Ana Junior College students have been invited to take part in this convention, and all students interested in problems of the Modern Industrial World are urged to make reservation to attend the conference.

Samovar Attracts Interest At Art Tea

Having as its purpose the organizing of an art club, the art classes gave a Samovar tea in the art room last week. Roderick Smiley and Corinne Nelson were elected to make further plans for the club.

Wild flowers, tables set in cabaret style, and lighted candles made the room look like a real art studio. Royal China with the picture of the Queen's Court and the Kaiser's crest on the back were used for the serving of spice tea and sandwiches in the shape of small palettes. Mrs. McKeown's brother, through the help of the King of Denmark, was able to get the novel Chinaware.

Mary Louise Wallace and Corinne Nelson and Mr. McKeown acted as hostesses.

Alice Gentle

Music lovers of Santa Ana junior college will be delighted to hear of the announcement that Alice Gentle will appear in concert at the Orange Union High School auditorium under the auspices of the Ensemble club, a musical organization.

Alice Gentle has obtained great fame as a soprano soloist. She is a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, but at the present time she is located in Los Angeles, having given several concerts in that city recently.

Tickets for the concert are seventy-five cents. They can be secured at Weaver's in Orange.

At a recent meeting of the Social Committee it was agreed that the "Varsity Drag" and socks for girls be banned at the all school party. The auditorium is not safe for the "Varsity Drag", for that would mean lots of stomping noise and dust.—Ke Kunkula, Normal School, Hawaii.

"Shakespeare Will Never Die", Says Warde

By Frances Brown

"Shakespeare will never die" was the answer of Frederick Warde, "the grand old man of the stage," when asked what future he thought Shakespearean drama had. Sitting in a large arm chair by the window smoking a pipe. Mr. Warde made a picture of happiness and comfort. Although he is seventy-eight years old Mr. Warde does not seem as old as the parts he portrays. When quoting Macbeth his eyes sparkled and he stood so quick that one would think he was going to act the part right then.

"Shakespeare will never come back into favor as it once was." The future is determined by the people and if they wish it, to be popular they will make it so. The ordinary person does not patronize art. There is not time for art in this age of realism. Shakespearean drama today is a luxury for which the people are in too big a rush to appreciate. "The future is like the uncut leaves of a book."

Mr. Warde does not think that the age of realism will pass. He says that he does not believe we will come away from the practical side of life. "The modern audience prefers recitals." Modern performances are not the highest type but they seem to suit the public taste.

Fifty-two years ago, when quite a young man, Mr. Warde came to this country from England. He has been connected with Shakespearean drama for sixty years and is still giving plays and readings. Every Tuesday in April he will give a reading from Shakespeare in honor of the birth of the great poet. He played opposite Charlott Cushman in her farewell performances in New York and Philadelphia. The two plays Macbeth and Henry the Eighth were Miss Cushman's last performances. She was drawn through the streets of New York City in a coach drawn by prominent citizens. Just before she left, the city presented her with a gold crown.

Mr. Warde, as Fra Junipero Serra, will probably be best remembered by Californians. His favorite character was King Lear. He said, "I believe Lear is the most difficult as well as the greatest of Shakespearean characters." (Continued on page 4)

Conference Meet Will Be Held At San Berdoo Next Saturday After- noon; All Jaycees Will Compete

Next Saturday afternoon all the junior college track teams will assemble at San Bernardino for the Annual Track Meet. This meet takes in all the junior colleges in the conference, both the Eastern Division and the Western Division sending their teams. There will be about twelve or thirteen colleges represented, and needless to say, the competition will be keen in all events.

Coach Cook is not at all optimistic about the Don's chances at the meet, but it is quite possible that his squad will make quite a showing. Coach Cook is working particularly hard on getting the boys into shape and hopes to come home with a goodly number of points to the Dons' credit. Just what the strength of the Eastern Division teams will be is doubtful, but it is rumored that the lads in that division are no slouches when it comes to grabbing off first and second places. Probably the strongest contenders for championship honors from the Western Division are Glendale and Compton. They are undoubtedly the strongest teams in this division and they are expected to fight it out to the last event.

This meet will witness the first meeting between Captain Guyer, flying sprinter of Cook's squad and Frank Wykoff, Glendale ace. In the dual meet between the Dons and the Glendale Buccaneers, Wykoff was not in sufficient form to compete with Guyer in the sprints, the Glendale lad having just recovered from a siege of ill-health. Guyer has had no difficulty in defeating the pick of the Western Division sprinters and it is hoped that he will be able to defeat the Glendale runner. Wykoff has been defeated once already this season, in the meet between Glendale and Pasadena several weeks ago, however it is said that Wykoff is nearing top form rapidly and probably will be at the peak by Saturday. For these reasons the sprints should provide plenty of thrills for the track fans.

Golf Team Competes At San Bernardino

Next Friday at San Bernardino the golf teams of the several junior colleges will meet to play off the initial round. The final championship round will be played Saturday. This is the first meet of its kind in local junior college circles, and is the first year that Santa Ana has had a golf team. Through the efforts of Coach Walter Scott, several of the men interested in the "Ancient and Honorable" have formed a team and are destined to make a bid for Conference honors in this sport.

The Dons will be quite ably represented by Harold Watson, Stanton Daley, Edwin Gerhardt and Eric Twist. These boys have been working hard lately getting into shape for the coming tournament and it is hoped that they will be successful. The idea here is rather new, it having been started just some there weeks ago. Prior to then the boys had not thought about organizing a team but Coach Scott was quite interested in it and worked out the details. After starting it gained popularity and is in a fair way to become a regular sport in junior colleges. Long Beach junior college claims the honor of sponsoring the movement in the Western Division and the men who got behind the movement deserve much credit for their successful promotion of the sport in so short a time.

Local Tennis Sharks Prepare For Big Tournament

The local would-be Tildens, Johnson, Richards and Johnny Doegs, have been limbering up the arms and banging away at the old pills in preparation for the big tennis tournament to be played off in the very near future for the Santa Ana Register cup. According to information reaching this desk the tournament is scheduled to start this week and any one who has any ability or not with the racket is urged to compete.

As far as we have been able to ascertain the idea is that the Santa Ana Register is putting up this cup as a sort of perpetual challenge cup for tennis sharks. The winner of the elimination tournament in junior college will have the honor of having his name encribed upon the cup with the date of his win. The cup will rest in the trophy case of the junior college, wherever it is. It is thought that by making this cup a perpetual challenge affair it will stimulate interest in tennis and will serve to make the elimination tournament an annual affair at the junior college.

Coach Patton, who is in charge of the tennis team this year is also in charge of this tournament and will be glad to give all the details to any candidate desirous of entering the contest. All men interested in this are urged to get the dope right away in order that the tournament may get started at once.

Girls' Baseball Season Opens With Generous Turnout; Season Looks Hopeful, Says Manager

Ford Is Victor In J. C. Net Play-off

Mary Ford has been declared tennis champion by virtue of her victory over Alice Prather 7-5, 6-0. The conclusion of the match was played before vacation.

With the tournament now played off the Donnas are seeking larger fields to conquer. Manager Larrabee has sent a letter to Long Beach Junior College inviting their team to take part in an invitational meet with Santa Ana in the near future at a time convenient to them. It is hoped that Long Beach will be able to accept this invitation, and also that other meets can be arranged with other colleges this quarter.
